

DAVID YEOW

Member - Advisory Board, Singapore Mercantile Exchange (SMX)

- Member of disciplinary committee, SGX-DT
- Member, Mediation Panel, Association of Banks, Singapore
- Recommended Banking and Finance practitioner
- Former Member, Debt Capital Market Working Group, Singapore

Mr. Yeow is a Member of the Advisory Board, Singapore Mercantile Exchange (SMX), an exchange venture promoted by the Financial Technologies Group. He is currently a partner in Rajah & Tann, LLP, a Singapore-based law firm. He is a member of the disciplinary committee of Singapore Exchange Derivatives Trading Ltd. (SGX-DT). Since the past two decades he has been the primary Legal Advisor to SGX-DT, which was formerly known as Singapore International Monetary Exchange Ltd. (SIMEX).

Mr. Yeow was earlier a member of SGX-DT's Rules Committee and also of the representative group from SGX-DT responsible for its corporate presentations to the US Commodity Futures Trading Commission, the Chicago Mercantile Exchange (CME), and the Chicago Board of Trade (CBOT).

Mr. Yeow is the primary external Legal Advisor to the Singapore International Commodity Exchange Ltd. (SICOM), and is also a member of its Rules Committee.

Mr. Yeow is on the mediation panel of the Association of Banks Singapore and was a member of the Debt Capital Market Working Group of the Monetary Authority of Singapore's Financial Centre Advisory Group Banking Sub-Committee.

Recognised as a leading lawyer by the Asia Pacific Legal 500 and the Asia Law Profiles, Mr. Yeow is a recommended banking and finance practitioner in PLC Which Lawyer? Yearbook Singapore (2007), PLC Global Counsel 3000, and PLC Cross-Borders Finance: Secured Lending Handbook 2007/08 (2nd Edition). He brings to SMX his legal acumen in the derivatives industry to ensure best practices of compliance.